JOINT CIVIL SOCIETY STATEMENT

“CALL FOR SYSTEMIC REFORM AFTER THE FLOOD CONTROL SCANDAL”

JOINT CIVIL SOCIETY STATEMENT

Filipinos call for systemic reform after the flood control scandal

We, the Filipino people, express indignation at the multibillion peso flood control scandal that has harmed and killed our fellow Filipinos in a climate crisis that brings our country even deadlier storms.

We express our outrage at government officials, “politicontractors,” private sector parties—and their relatives—who unabashedly flaunt their lavish lifestyles as they steal our hard-earned taxpayer money.

We have had enough. We need to escape this vicious cycle. We must reject the system of corruption that kills our fellow Filipinos and erodes our confidence in government.

We demand that this corrupt system be replaced with a system of transparency, accountability, and people’s participation that makes it harder to be bad and easier to be good.

1. First, we call on the DPWH and DBM to convene an independent multisectoral review committee of scientists, civil society groups, and local communities to study current projects and resubmit 2026 proposals based on proper science. The government must move away from mostly cement-based flood control infrastructure towards nature-based flood management solutions like reforestation, watershed restoration, and other sustainable solutions rooted in broader principles of integrated water resource management. The committee must review existing studies of the country’s 18 major river basins, and ensure that projects follow the 5Rs: the right projects, at the right cost, with the right quality, implemented by the right people, delivered right on time. We call on the President to veto projects that do not adhere to proper science, to send a credible message to Congress.
2. Second, we call on the House and Senate to end the abusive practice of opaque congressional insertions, especially in the bicameral conference committee. We call for an #OpenBloom and an #OpenBudget transparency server that automatically reports online these project insertions. We call on Congress to give budget monitors enough time to review insertions, not just as token observers but as resource persons. Congressional insertions to the DPWH budget, prone to abuse, have ballooned since 2020, but reached record highs of net P540 billion from 2023 to 2025 under the current administration.
3. Third, we call on the President and DPWH to provide full and genuine
